Background Information

Please explain how your community activities and other relevant experience/interests are applicable to this board or commission.

I am the owner and founder of CozyHome. We are a home performance contracting company focusing on how to make homes more energy efficient, comfortable and sustainable. I have been volunteering for the City teaching do it yourself energy efficiency workshops for 2 years. I have been involved in the energy efficiency field for 8 years working on both new homes and older homes.

Why do you want to serve on the board or commission you listed?

I love Flagstaff and want to see it be a sustainable city with wise, managed growth. I feel my experience in the energy efficiency field will be beneficial in providing input on how Flagstaff can be more energy efficient and sustainable. Also being a small business owner I can provide insight to how decisions can affect the local economy. Thanks for your consideration!

By submitting this electronic form, I acknowledge that any information provided above is public information, and I certify that I meet the City Charter requirement of living within the Flagstaff City limits and have read and understand the right to have my application considered in a public meeting.

Please note that all board and commission meetings are streamed live for public viewing.

Background Information

Please explain how your community activities and other relevant experience/interests are applicable to this board or commission.

I believe that I am well qualified to serve on the Flagstaff Sustainability Commission. My two undergraduate degrees are in the physical sciences, one in Physics and the other in Basic Sciences. I also hold two graduate degrees, an M.S. in Applied Physics and an M.Ed. in Educational Leadership. Both masters are from NAU. I work full time as the Senior Laboratory Manager in NAU's Dept. of Physics and Astronomy. I feel that this gives me a strong educational and professional foundation to be an effective, well informed, and well-reasoned contributor to the Sustainability Commission and its mandate. For several years I worked as a volunteer on projects run by both Volunteers for Outdoor Colorado and The Continental Divide Trail Alliance (CDTA). I served as a Crew Chief for the CDTA. This experience made me realize the critical importance of maintaining wild and natural spaces in the context of high use, all while considering the needs and issues of a variety of actors. Included in that group of actors were the Dept. of Agriculture, the BLM, local municipalities, local businesses, large corporate interests such as mining and petroleum concerns, county and state governments, and local land owners. While living in Farmington, New Mexico I was privileged to serve variously as board member, vice-president, and president of the San Juan Unitarian Universalist Fellowship. During those years I was involved in many informal community outreach programs designed to promote an environmentally friendly approach to the city's and the county's land use, water use, and waste disposal issues. During my time in Farmington, New Mexico, I also worked as a sales representative for an industrial coatings manufacturer. I consulted on a variety of projects including waste water, coal mining, potable water distribution, electrical generation, petroleum/natural gas pumping, storage, distillation, and distribution, and large agricultural projects (NAPI).

Why do you want to serve on the board or commission you listed?

I feel that Flagstaff is one of the great places to live in the western United States. I am thankful to wake up every morning in this great community. Its local flavor and charm are due in large part to the sense of commitment our residents have to maintaining a positive and thoughtful balance between nature and human activities. There are a number of challenges facing our city in the years and decades to come. How will we deal with growth? What will we do about water resources? How do we mitigate fire danger? How do we balance the concerns of business and industry with those of the environment? And so on. I would feel privileged to play even a small part in helping to deal with some of these issues.

By submitting this electronic form, I acknowledge that any information provided above is public information, and I certify that I meet the City Charter requirement of living within the Flagstaff City limits and have read and understand the right to have my application considered in a public meeting.

Background Information

Please explain how your community activities and other relevant experience/interests are applicable to this board or commission.

I am dedicated to educating not only myself but also my communities about agriculture, both rural and urban, and humanity's relationship with our natural resources through both classroom and experiential means. That dedication includes receiving a BA in Ecological Anthropology from the University of Maryland-College Park (UMD); managing two urban farms in Washington, DC, as well as working on and managing other agricultural operations in Maryland, New York, and Arizona; working as an assistant forest ranger in the Adirondacks of New York; working on and managing forest trail crews in New York, Maryland, DC, and Pennsylvania; and now being Program Manager of the Diablo Trust, a collaborative land conservation group based in Flagstaff in association with the Bar T Bar and Flying M Ranches, located southeast of Flagstaff. I currently split my time managing the Trust in Flagstaff and managing the commercial vegetable operation on the Flying M Ranch, which allows me to interact with the surrounding suburban and urban communities through our own farmer's market and CSA. Additionally, in college I oversaw the environmental arm of a community service-learning organization, was the trail crew officer for UMD's student-run outdoor organization, and often attended lectures, meetings, and classes at environmental and sustainability-oriented non-profits and agencies in DC. While at UMD I represented the anthropology department on our college's Dean's Student Advisory Council, participated in overseeing clean elections for our student government, and was president of the Anthropology Student Association for three semesters. I initially came out to Flagstaff in the fall of 2012 to participate in the Grand Canyon Semester: an experiential, interdisciplinary program at NAU about the Colorado Plateau and the American SW. That semester program introduced me to the Flying M Ranch and the greater Flagstaff community, to which I returned in early 2014. All of these positions and activities allowed me to both learn more about how my peers and community interact with the natural world, and to learn more about how I can influence and work with other link-minded citizens to affect progressive change around us. These positions are diverse enough to allow me to interact with a variety of public groups, many of which are highly representative in Flagstaff (primarily local agriculture and public lands work), but are also focused that I can - and do - speak and educate clearly concerning specific issues related to each topic. For example, the amount of vacant lots in Flagstaff that could, with the right funding and permitting, be transformed into green lots of either edible or picturesque gardens, with the potential for education, volunteer work, and community growth.

Why do you want to serve on the board or commission you listed?

I would like to serve on the Sustainability Commission because I maintain a belief that any community can become not only more ecologically sustainable but also more economically, socially, and politically sustainable through conscientious utilization and holistic management of their natural resources. Flagstaff is my home now, and being able to help progress Flagstaff's own sustainability objectives, by serving on this commission, would not only benefit myself by further ingratiating me into Flagstaff-specific sustainability policy, but would also benefit the commission by introducing a fresher outlook and insight into the current scope of socio-cultural views on sustainability.

By submitting this electronic form, I acknowledge that any information provided above is public information, and I certify that I meet the City Charter requirement of living within the Flagstaff City limits and have read and understand the right to have my application considered in a public meeting.

Background Information

Please explain how your community activities and other relevant experience/interests are applicable to this board or commission.

I moved here 15 years ago as a professional mountain biker, and I have been deeply involved in the cycling community of Flagstaff ever since, helping to promote greater enjoyment of, and involvement in cycling in all its forms. I have also been involved in efforts to increase voter turnout, both from partisan and non-partisan sides. I am currently a Master's student in the NAU program, Climate Science and Solutions. I am working to help businesses and communities lower their carbon footprints, and improve their overall environmental sustainability. I regularly attend NAU's various sustainability group meetings, contributing my time and ideas whenever possible. When I graduate from the CSS program, I plan to continue helping local businesses and communities improve their sustainability, and I am open to many different avenues to do so. I will pursue opportunities with local businesses, Coconino Community College, NAU, the City, and the County, as well as any other local opportunities that come up.

Why do you want to serve on the board or commission you listed?

I want to continue to learn more about the ins and outs of creating greater environmental sustainability on the governmental level, so that I will be more effective when I graduate and am working in this field. I have many ideas of ways to implement programs as well as initiate new ones. I am a very motivated and passionate person, and that comes through clearly in my sustainability work. I work well in groups, remaining open to others' ideas and respectful of differing opinions. I care deeply about the Flagstaff community, having lived here for 15 years. My daughter, husband, and I often look around at the life we have built here and comment on how fortunate we are to live in such a beautiful place, so full of people who are passionate about caring for our earth, our country, our town, and each other. I want to keep finding ways to contribute to both our local and global environment, and being on the Sustainability Commission seems like a great way to do so!
